

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation. I want to know if it is against federal law, and if so, I want the FCC to file a lawsuit against this example of overt large media attempts to influence an election. I do not want my taxes to support this sort of thing. I have no problem with any media providing both sides of the issue. If Sinclair is overtly partisan and says so, and declares their support for Bush and that they do not support Kerry, then I have no problem with that either.
